

Purchasing Longo Group bonds is simple

Do you have a securities account?

No

Yes

Read the frequently asked questions section on the Longo Group website longogroup.com/bonds

Decide which bank or brokers company you would like to open a securities account with.
The most convenient way is to do this with a bank where you already have a checking account.

Decide how many bonds you would like to purchase and submit a subscription order to your bank.

Subscription period: October 15 to October 31, 2024.

Price per bond: €100

At the end of the subscription period, the bonds will be allocated into your securities account.

The number of bonds allocated may be different from the number you have applied for, which will depend on the final allocation process. If the number of bonds allocated is smaller than the number you subscribed for, funds for unallocated bonds will be returned to your account.

Congratulations!

You have become a bondholder of Longo Group.